

Krystal Glassman, MS, LPC

Krystal Glassman is a psychotherapist working in private practice located in Western Suburb of Chicago. She works with a variety of ages providing both individual and couples work. Krystal specializes in treatment of anxiety, OCD, relationship challenges, depression, stress management, and boundaries issues and typically uses an attachment framework along with cognitive behavioral approaches, acceptance and exposure theories.