

Rhonda Abrams

A Chicago transplant raised in the Los Angeles suburbs, Rhonda heads Development and Community Engagement for Mishkan Chicago, a pluralistic, post-denominational, emergent Jewish community in Chicago. Prior to Mishkan, Rhonda served as the Executive Director of Greater Portland Hillel in Oregon and the Regional Associate for Advancing Women Executives. She was once a teenage NFTY SoCal enthusiast à la Wilshire Boulevard Temple and now spends her spare time dreaming about cheese products, cuddling her sweet black Labrador and traveling the globe with her husband.
